Band To Give Seven Performances During Annual Spring Concert Tour

The concert band's annual spring concert tour will include only seven concerts this year, said Roy J. Weger, director of bands.

Six concerts remain on the schedule and another is tentatively set up. Concerts in Damascus, Vienna, West Carrollton and Van Wert have been cancelled.

Remaining concerts are scheduled in Bloomville, Upper Sandusky, Claridon, Mt. Vernon Academy, Union Schools and Bowling Green. An evening concert in either Fostoria or Swanton has been tentatively planned for March 28.

The tour will open March 25 and will be continued the next day. One concert will be presented the afternoon of March 28 and another may be played that evening.

Concluding the tour, the band will play the annual spring formal concert on Sunday, March 31 in Bowling Green. Featured soloist for this performance is Harold Brasch, acknowledged as the greatest euphonium player in the world.

The band will present separate performances for its afternoon and evening concerts although there will be some duplication in the two programs. Numbers by Mendelssohn, Handel and Goldmark will be among the music featured.

This year's student soloists include Charles Lutz and Keith Biler, marimbists, John Gregory, cornetist and James George, baritone horn.

Prof. Weger will accompany the band on its tour. He will be accompanied by Richard Ecker, assistant professor of music, who will conduct some of the numbers played by the band.

The following people did not appear in Student Court on March 25 and were found guilty in absence of parking violations and improper registration:

Students fined $1 for first offenses were: Donald Lewis, Robert Bramer, John Doan, Raymond Dumont, Charles Kellermyer, George Lynch, Evelyn Reiser, Robin Turner, Nicholas Wasil, and Dorothy Plicheinski. Miss Plicheinski was also fined $1 for improper display of registration sticker.

Fined $3 for second offenses were: Thomas Carlyon, Corwin Hutchison, David Nordin, and Rachel Tefft.

William Stienman appeared in court and was found guilty of failure to register his car. He was fined $25.

James McDonald appeared before the court on a charge of failing to comply with the decision of the court to keep his car in the parking lot for one week. He was also found guilty of a fourth offense and fined $10. His car will be impounded for three weeks.

1,089 Vote During Campus Elections

"Only about 1,089 student voted in the all-campus election for Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner Wednesday, March 20," announced Sandra Clark, chairman of the Elections Committee.

This is approximately 26 percent of the entire student body. About 746 women voted for Li'l Abner and 339 men turned out to vote for the Daisy Mae candidates.

According to a letter recently published in the B-G News, the two groups, which are in the process of planning a Spring Week End, have not been able to overcome the barrier to the event presented by the fact that Miss B-G and the May Queen celebrations would both fall on the same week end, May 24, 25, and 26.

Thus, the two groups at the present time, are reportedly in favor of the abolishment of the Miss B-G award. The May Queen would perhaps, if Miss B-G was abolished, reign for the entire Spring Week End, according to Dr. William Wright, chairman of the University Social Committee.

"Since we are initiating the plan of an entire big week end instead of several unconnected activities as in the past, we feel that one queen to reign over the entire affair would be more successful," the letter published in the News stated.

Spring Week-End

The Spring Week End would consist of the Annual University—Anniversary Prom on Friday evening and the presentation of the May Queen and her attendants on Sunday afternoon. The floats which are constructed for this event would also be presented at this time.

The Spirit and Traditions Board is also considering combining Honors Day with the presentation of the May Queen in an attempt to bolster attendance at the recognition event, Miles stated. Attendance has steadily fallen off at Honors Day Ceremonies since it has been held in the main auditorium.

Both the University Social Committee and the Spirit Board felt that the student body should be the deciding factor in the abolishment of one of the queens. The two groups had originally planned to place the question on the ballot in the Sadie Hawkins Day and Association of Women Students elections held last Wednesday, March 20, in the recreation hall. They changed their minds in favor of sending questionnaires to the individual residence halls. The questionnaires are to be sent out sometime this week, Miles related.

Past Elections

In the past Miss B-G candidates have been elected by the student body with the finalists selected and announced by the bandleader at the U-A Prom.

The May Queen has been chosen in an all-campus election and presented with her court on a Sunday afternoon at the University Plaza. The Court and their escorts have dressed formally for this event in the past.

The Spirit Board and the Social Committee reportedly feel that the abolishment of Miss B-G with

Teachers Conference To Be Held March 23

The Fifth Annual Spring Conference of High School Business Teachers and Students will be held Saturday, March 23, at the University. The conference is arranged by the business education department.

Two speakers will be featured at the conference: Douglas Udey, Rossford Ordnance, will discuss the opportunities in civil service open to business students and John R. Hale, of the Toledo Blade, will explain the newly formed Junior Division of the National Office Management Association.

ACE Elects Conaway

Dr. Winifred Conaway, assistant professor of education, was elected first vice-president of the Ohio Association of Childhood Education. She will take office June 1 for a two-year term. She is faculty adviser for the local student branch of ACE.

Important To All . . .

True, a majority of the student body is a long way, from one to three years, away from being members of the Bowling Green State University Alumni Association which is currently in the formative stages. As the distance increases from the time students will be joining the group, the interest in it proportionately decreases, apparently.

However, the building of this organization, in analysis, is important to every student on this campus. We, or those of us who will complete sixty hours of credited work here, a large percentage of the student body, will someday be members of this organization and vitally interested in its operation.

Seniors are already an integral part of this new body. They will, under the constitution of the group, automatically become voting members following graduation. The prospective graduates will soon have the opportunity to approve or disapprove the new constitution and to elect two directors to represent them officially in the workings of the new association.

Another thing which should cause interest on the part of the student body to be aroused in this group is that it is something which has been needed on the campus for a long time. The opportunity for a group of this nature to aid in the growth and reputation of this University is unlimited.

As potential alumni, we shall all be interested in finding some way of keeping in close contact with our alma mater. This association should provide us with a useful channel of information concerning the University and its affairs long after we have been granted our degrees and are far away from the campus.

Thus, although at the present time, information concerning an alumni association may seem rather vague and unimportant to us, we as students should remember that someday we will be members of this group, that we will be helping in the forming of its policies and the planning of its activities, and that we will be counting on the student body of that time to give us cooperation, information, and aid needed to keep the association strong and useful.

Letter Discusses Artist Program

Dear Editor:

Your recent editorial hinted at the possibility of discontinuing Artist Series' offerings, due to poor attendance. That's like taking books away from a child because he doesn't read them.

How many efforts have been made to find out what type of entertainment the students really want? After all, Dorothy Maynor was a substitute choice. Also, paying to watch a singer sing seems a little outdated, as great singers can be seen any evening on television, and records are purchasable of the world's great voices.

Besides, even in great cultural centers, week-day nights are poorly attended. The need is to bring in performances which attract a diversity of interests. Of course, another answer would be to have some group try to raise students' appreciation of, and to educate the student body along the "cultural" channels, just as the above-mentioned child needs to be taught appreciation of and methods of reading, and along lines of his interests. Wherein his interests conflict with what he needs, there is a need for education.

Sincerely,
Charles Bronz

Business Ad Prof Explains Courses

Should a course in governmental relations to business and industry occupy a place in the curriculum of the student in business administration?

Dr. Russell Decker, associate professor of business administration, answers yes to this question in an article he wrote in the March issue of the "Collegiate News and Views," a service publication for administrators and instructors of business and economic subjects in colleges and universities.

Dr. Decker feels that a student should be able to discover the weaknesses in our great free enterprise system and should observe why and how government has intervened to compensate them. Drawn from personal experiences and observations, Dr. Decker outlined a method for teaching such a course. His teaching situation would be a class of 35 seniors; follow a text prepared in a moderately theoretical fashion by an economist; supplemented by regular references to recent court decisions, Commission rulings, and happenings of the everyday business world, and guided by an aggressive business law professor with a good business background.

Poll Taken Of Student Opinion On Greek Week Dance Band

By JOAN HONKALA

With Greek Week nearing, we decided that another poll was in order, so we decided to take one to find out what band students thought would play for the Greek Week Dance. The top place went to Ralph Flanagan with 18 votes. Next came Les Elgart with 12. Students mentioned the following bands as their choice for the Greek Week bandstand: Stan Kenton, 8; Ray Anthony, 6; Billy May, 5; Duke Ellington, 3; Buddy Morrow, 2; Percy Faith, 1; Lawrence Welk, 1; Tommy Todak, 1; Spike Jones, 1; Blue Barron, 1; and Xavier Cugat, 1. All we can say is that none of these are too close. Watch the B-G News for a release soon.

The activities room in Founders Quadrangle is the ultimate in modern living. The room runs along the entire back of the Lowry and Harmon Halls on the ground floor and is furnished with modern round tables, wrought iron chairs with seat covers harmonizing with the color scheme throughout the building, and long, comfortable-looking couches. At each end of the room are machines which dispense gum, candy bars, pop, milk, coffee, ice cream and cigarettes. The only machine that seems to be missing is one that sells full course dinners.

B-G certainly has its share of persons who "make good." And all within a period of time we can remember, or that we have heard about since coming on campus. Eva Marie Saint, Charlie Share, Darrell Askey who is doing very well in New York—he received a write-up in Earl Wilson's nationally syndicated column last week; and now the Pitchpicks—we hope! For the deep thought department: The koodoo is one of the largest and most numerous of African antelopes.

Man the slickers and the lifeboats—the monsoon season has set in.

Across the desk: A small town—where they're proud of the traffic congestion . . . Experience—what we call our mistakes . . . Golf—a futile attempt to put an insignificant ball into an obscure hole with a totally inadequate weapon, for no apparent reason . . . Epitaph—compliments too late.

It could be verse:
Of all the sad surprises
There's nothing to compare
With treading in the darkness
On a step that isn't there.

Parting shot: Only one man in a thousand is a leader of men—the other 999 are followers of women.

Official Announcements

The second series of Salk polio vaccine injections are now being given to students in University residential housing units. Virgil H. Taylor, business manager of the Health Service, states that an open-date period for other students to receive injections will be announced soon. Off-campus students and others who missed scheduled appointments will be inoculated during these open dates.

Dr. Henderson Has ROTC Rifle Team Article Published In Defeated By Michigan Labor Law Journal

Dr. Robert Henderson, chairman of the department of business administration is the author of an article appearing in the March issue of the "Labor Law Journal." This book is published by the Commercial Clearing Inc. to promote sound thinking on labor law problems.

Mr. Henderson expressed, from a managerial approach, the reasons for and the use of a legal counsel in contract negotiation in the foundry industry. He feels that there is a growing trend towards placing a greater emphasis on the legal aspects of the union contract, therefore, a legal counsel would be important to keep both union and industry well informed on each others points of view.

George H. Waynor, former student here, obtained information for the report by sending questionnaires to 20 foundry firms ranging from 400 to 10,000 employees. Twenty-three replied with an 82 per cent return.

Seventy-nine days till graduation.

The Army ROTC Rifle Team was defeated by the University of Michigan, one of the highest scoring teams in the Midwest, by a score of 1404-1363 on March 2.

Gary Johnson, a freshman, was the high scorer for the Falcons with 282 out of a possible 300 points. The match was fired from three positions: prone, kneeling and standing. The Falcons were high in the kneeling position.

Other scores for the Falcons were: Ralph Wells 275, John Cunningham 272, and William Woodruff 269. Two regular members of the team, Lee Zimmerman and John Hill, were out of the match. Zimmerman is the team's high scorer so far this year.

BG Drops Indoor Meet; Enter Denison Relays

Last Tuesday night the cinderman went to Eastern Michigan to find out how much they had progressed so far. Having only a handful of varsity men to participate they carried several freshmen in order to make up an entire squad. They encountered a powerful Eastern Michigan team and were able to take only one place in the varsity competition. Wayne University also garnered one second place.

Had it not been for a few freshmen hopefuls the night would have been completely dim. However, the yearling thinclads mustered a few points, proving that the future will be bright. These points could not be counted because of the MAC's eligibility ruling.

Bernard Casey, standout freshman hurdler, sprinted to a second and a third to nationally-recognized hurdler, Hayes Jones. Walt Killian, who has jumped 6' 4 1/2" this year, outclassed all of the high jump competition, which could do no better than 5' 10" in that event. Their points, however, were not counted.

Bob Ramlow, last year's outstanding freshman pole vaulter, got second place in his specialty as he vaulted 12' 6".

The near future holds more strong competition for the Falcon runners as they will take a team to the 4th annual Livingston Relays in Granville, Ohio.

The meet will contain many national stars, including Ira Muchison, world co-record holder for the 100 meter dash and recipient of a coveted Olympic gold medal in the U.S.'s winning 400 meter relay team. Also there will be such stars as Glenn Davis, and Hays Jones. Twenty schools will compete in a field of 12 events. Among the schools will be Michigan, Ohio State, Miami, Western Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan, Baldwin-Wallace, Bowling Green and others.

KSigs Establish Top Three Game Series

Kappa Sigma moved within one game of league leading Delta Tau Delta last Friday night as they rolled a blazing 2629 three game series to down Pi Kappa Alpha for three games. This 2629 established a new team three game high series for the season. Kappa Sigma also holds the high team single game of 932.

Sigma Nu remained in a tie with Kappa Sigma for second place as they dropped Zeta Beta Tau for three games. Delta Tau Delta salvaged two out of three from Phi Kappa Psi.

Ben Gilyon and Ed Diehl are tied for the league's high average bowler with 170. John Zitkov follows close behind with 167. Gilyon's 665 is still the top individual three game series and Diehl's 276 high individual single game.

AKO, Theta Chi V-Ball Finalists

Theta Chi captured their league title Wednesday night as they dropped Phi Delta Theta for two games. The victory gave them a 5-0 record. Theta Chi took the first of the two games by a 15-4 score, but had considerable more trouble with the second as they only managed to squeeze out a 16-14 win.

The Theta Chi team consisted of Don Barto, Ed Hora, Bill Carr, Bob Rask, Bob Fearnside, Al Reinke, Joe Miller, Chuck Richey, and Dick Schuckers.

Alpha Kappa Omega took the championship of League I as they dumped Kappa Sigma last night to wind up their season with a 6-0 mark. The AKO squad was made up of Ed Harling, Chuck McCampbell, Herb Moorehead, Charles Tinsley, Harold Furcron, Art Sykes, Joe Bates, Carlos Jackson, and Jim Tucker.

Monday night the independents get into full swing as the Cast-offs meet F.F.A. and Stadium engages F.V.C.

The final standing of League II are as follows:

FRATERNITY VOLLEYBALL
League II
Team	W	L
Theta Chi	5	0
Alpha Tau Omega	4	1
Phi Delta Theta	3	2
Delta Upsilon	2	3
Zeta Beta Tau	1	4
Pi Kappa Alpha	0	5

The Falcon swimming team ran their win streak to 17 straight before losing to high powered Michigan State early in January.

Falcon Women Take Bowling, Cage Events In Annual Sports Day

Approximately 145 women from the University, Eastern Michigan University, and Oberlin College participated in the College Sports Day, which was held on this campus Saturday.

Badminton, bowling, table tennis, and volleyball provided the competition for the afternoon, with Eastern Michigan winning in table tennis, basketball, and volleyball games.

Oberlin took first in badminton and also won its volleyball game. Bowling Green took first place in bowling and sent its high-scoring intramural basketball team, the Court Ladies, to a 32-18 victory over Eastern Michigan. Dona Rae Whittaker was high scorer of the game with 20 points. Beverly Staidle was captain of the winning team.

Chevrolet Wins Coveted Manufacturers' Trophy at Daytona Beach as "best performing U. S. automobile"!

Want facts about performance?

Then look at the official figures from NASCAR's* internationally famous Daytona Beach competition for stock cars. Here's what you'll find: Chevrolet, in two weeks of blistering competition, proved itself as America's Number One performance car. Nothing in the low-price field could touch it.

No other car, regardless of price, scored such a sweep. And Chevy walked away with the famous Manufacturers' Trophy, hands down!

The 1957 Chevrolet is, by all odds, the most astonishing performer ever produced in the low-price field. Best of all, this superiority isn't limited to just a few extra-cost high-performance models. Every type of Chevy—from the six-cylinder models right up to the 283-horsepower "Super Turbo-Fire" V8's, from the single-carburetor V8's with Powerglide to the stick-shift "270's"—is a championship car.
